Make a difference in your community and fight climate change

Join Clean Power Alliance's Community Advisory Committee!

Clean Power Alliance (CPA) is the locally operated electricity provider for 35 communities across Los Angeles and Ventura counties, offering clean renewable energy at competitive rates. CPA was established in 2017 to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, stimulate renewable energy and job development, and provide choice and local control for participating communities.

Part of CPA's governance structure included the creation of its Community Advisory Committee (CAC) to ensure diverse customer voices were represented in CPA's decision-making and community engagement. The CAC has 15 members comprised of customers who are already leaders in their communities and have complementary expertise on clean energy, community outreach, policy, or other skills to offer CPA. They each represent a region of our service territory.

Why join the CAC?

If you are passionate about clean energy, equity, community engagement, and building relationships, we invite you to join us to shape our agency's vision and make history! Being a part of the CAC helps develop your leadership, networks, and exposure to the energy industry and policy arenas. Each member has an opportunity to represent their local communities on key policy issues, such as local programs, renewable energy projects, and customer assistance. Meetings are monthly and members are expected to stay engaged attending community events, council/commission discussions, and help CPA communicate with customers in your region.

Who we're seeking:

Anyone who is passionate about community engagement is welcome to apply—no need to have a previous background in energy! We are seeking applicants with relevant paid or volunteer experience in advocacy, environmental or social justice issues, and community engagement.

For questions or to apply electronically, please email Christian Cruz, Senior Community Outreach Manager at: ccruz@cleanpoweralliance.org.
